ORDER-IN-APPEAL

M/s. Rushil Décor Ltd., 607-608, GIDC, Mansa, Dist. Gandhinagar, (for short - 'appellant') has filed this appeal against OIO No. AHM-CEX-003-ADC-MLM-035-16-17 dated 27.10.2016, passed by the Additional Commissioner, Central Excise, Ahmedabad-III (for short - 'adjudicating authority').

2. Briefly, the facts are that a show cause notice dated 25.04.2016 was issued to the appellant, alleging that they were engaged in exempted service viz. trading activity in addition to manufacturing goods falling under chapter 48 and 85 of Central Excise Tariff Act, 1985 and had availed CENVAT credit in respect of common taxable services but had failed to maintain separate accounts as stipulated in Rule 6 of the CENAT Credit Rules, 2004 (CCR). The said show cause notice was proposed for recovery of wrongly availed Cenvat credit amounting to 12,70,210/- in terms of Rule 6(3) of CCR for non maintenance of separate accounts for taxable and exempted service for the period from April 2015 to February 2016 with interest and penalty. Vide the impugned OIO dated 27.10.2016, the adjudicating authority decided the aforementioned show cause notice wherein he confirmed the demand along with interest and also imposed penalty of Rs.50,000/- under Section 11AC(1)(a) of the Central Excise Act, 1944 (CEA).

3. Feeling aggrieved, the appellant, has filed this appeal on the following grounds:

- The activity undertaken by the appellant is not trading; that they have three manufacturing plant in Gujarat and they procure various raw materials for manufacturing of its finished goods and in case there is requirement of raw materials in one manufacturing plant and if it is there at another plant then that materials is sent to another plant.
- The activity squarely gets covered by provisions of Rule 3(5) of CCR as removal as such; that as per the said provisions, they were required to reverse the credit availed at the time of procurement of such raw material and asking reversal of credit under Rule 6(3) of CCR is illegal.
- The amount of credit pertaining to common input services for the plant is much lesser than the total demand issued; that in recent amendment to the said Rule provides that the total credit reversible on account of exempted service should not exceed the total amount of Cenvat Credit availed during the relevant period.
- Penalty under Section 11 AC of CEA cannot be imposable as the issue involved is in relation to interpretation of the complex of legal provisions for definition of input service and exempted service.
- The appellant has relied on various citations in support of their submissions.

4. Personal hearing in the matter was held on 17.08.2017. Ms Kushboo Kundalia, Chartered Accountant and Shri Hitesh Mundra, appeared on behalf of the appellant and reiterated the arguments made in the grounds of appeal.

5. I have gone through the facts of the case, the appellant's grounds of appeal, and submissions made during the course of personal hearing. The issue to be decided is whether the demand of 12,70,210/-, confirmed in terms of Rule 6 of CCR with interest and penalty, is correct or otherwise.

6. I observe that on appellant case, the issue involved in the instant case pertains to the period up to March 2015 has already been decided by me, vide OIA No.AHM-EXCUS-003-APP-255-16-17 dated 27.02.2017, wherein it has been held that the Cenvat credit cannot be demanded more than the credit availed. Therefore, I am bound to follow the same in this case also.

7. The dispute as is evident revolves around Rule 6 of the CCR, which is extensively discussed in impugned order. The text of the rule is therefore, not re-produced. The adjudicating authority while confirming the demand has held that the appellant is involved in manufacture of Paper Based Decorative Laminated Sheets etc; that the appellant is also engaged in trading activities apart from manufacturing activities; that since the trading activities has been included under the definition of exempted service they had not maintained separate accounts for availing CENVAT credit in respect of common services for manufacturing and trading as required under the said rule; that the appellant has not followed the conditions and limitation laid down in the provisions of Rule 6(3) and 6(3A) of CCR..

8. Rule 6(1) of CCR, clearly states that CENVAT credit shall not be allowed on input service used in manufacture of exempted goods or provision of exempted services except in the circumstances mentioned in sub-rule(2). Rule 6(2), ibid, puts an obligation on a manufacturer who avails CENVAT credit in respect of inputs and input services, used in both dutiable and exempted final products, to maintain separate records. Rule 6(3), ibid, a non-obstante clause, gives a facility to a manufacturer, opting not to maintain separate accounts to either

- [a] pay an amount of 6% of the value of exempted goods; or
- [b] pay an amount as determined under rule 3A; or
- [c] maintain separate accounts and take CENVAT credit as per conditions therein and thereafter, pay an amount as per sub rule 3A of CCR.

9. The appellant argued that they had not carried out any trading activities but only a stock transfer the goods to their other unit taken place, as per its requirement. The adjudicating has concluded the activity carried out by the appellant as 'trading' on the basis of ledger account and nature of transaction shown in the invoices as sales and purchase. He further held that no further documents are available on record to show that the transaction was on stock transfer basis.

[Signature]

10. Generally, trading is an activity which carries or involves buying and selling of materials or goods on commercial basis. In the instant case, the appellant had purchased materials and sold to their own other unit under the coverage of commercial invoice. It is an undisputed fact that in the ledger records which pertain to such activities, the appellant has clearly recorded as 'internal purchase' and 'internal sale'. In the circumstances, I am of the opinion that such activities are not a 'stock transfer' but business activities having commercial identity. In the circumstances, the adjudicating authority has correctly concluded that the activities carried out by the appellant is 'trading' and do not require any interference. The appellant argued that they had an option to reverse the credit, as provided under CCR, in case of opting not to maintain separate accounts. This argument is not tenable, looking into the facts and circumstances of the instant case; that though the issue involved for the period from 2010 to 2015 has already been decided by the appellate authority and also aware of the procedure and provisions of rule, they even not think about reversal of credit. Further, even after, it was pointed out by the audit officer at the time of audit of records at the material time, they stick to their argument that their activities are not trading. Thus, the argument put forth by them is an afterthought.

11. The appellant, in support of their argument relied on Hon'ble Delhi Tribunal's decision in the case of M/s Sony India Ltd [2000(120) ELT 644], by holding that the transaction of movement of goods from one plant to another plant of same company be construed as stock transfer and not as sale of goods. On perusal of the said decision, I observe that the said decision is not applicable to the facts of the present case; that in the said decision, the case relates to transfer of goods from factory to depot and in the instant case, it relates to movement of goods from factory to factory (appellant's own) under proper entry in books and accounts mentioning as "purchase and sale". The other decisions viz M/s English Electric Company of India Ltd pronounced by Hon'ble Supreme Court and M/s A.B.Mauri India Pvt Ltd of Hon'ble High Court of Andhra Pradesh is also not relevant to this case, looking into the facts as discussed above.

12. The appellant further contended that the demand cannot be more than the CENVAT Credit, availed. I observe that in view of amended provisions of Rule 6 (3) of CCR, the Joint Secretary (TRU) has issued a letter no. 334/8/2016-TRU dated 29.2.2016 which states that:

(h) Rule 6 of Cenvat Credit Rules, which provides for reversal of credit in respect of inputs and input services used in manufacture of exempted goods or for provision of exempted services, is being redrafted with the objective of simplifying and rationalizing the same without altering the established principles of reversal of such credit.

(i) sub rule (1) of rule 6 is being amended to first state the existing principle that CENVAT credit shall not be allowed on such quantity of input and input services as is used in or in relation to manufacture of exempted goods and exempted service. The rule then directs that the procedure for calculation of credit not allowed is provided in sub-rules (2) and (3), for two different situations.

(ii) sub-rule (2) of rule 6 is being amended to provide that a manufacturer who exclusively manufactures exempted goods for their clearance up to the place of removal or a service provider who exclusively provides exempted services shall pay (i.e. reverse) the entire credit and effectively not be eligible for credit of any inputs and input services used.

(iii) sub-rule (3) of rule 6 is being amended to provide that when a manufacturer manufactures two classes of goods for clearance upto the place of removal, namely, exempted goods and final products excluding exempted goods or when a provider of output services provides two classes of services, namely exempted services and output services excluding exempted services, Page 33 of 38 then the manufacturer or the provider of the output service shall exercise one of the two options, namely, (a) pay an amount equal to six per cent of value of the exempted goods and seven per cent of value of the exempted services, subject to a maximum of the total credit taken or (b) pay an amount as determined under sub-rule (3A).

(iv) The maximum limit prescribed in the first option would ensure that the amount to be paid does not exceed the total credit taken. The purpose of the rule is to deny credit of such part of the total credit taken, as is attributable to the exempted goods or exempted services and under no circumstances this part can be greater than the whole credit.

However, this amendment reflects the interpretation and intent of the Government. In-fact Joint Secretary himself states that the rules are being redrafted with the objective of simplifying and rationalizing the same without altering the established principles of reversal of such credit. Even otherwise to demand an amount under Rule 6 which is more than the CENVAT credit availed would clearly be against the spirit of reversal. Though the above referred amendment has made in a clarification nature and not specified any retrospective effect, the intent of the Government is very clear.

13. In view above, I hold that the activity carried out by the appellant is falling within the meaning of 'exempted service' as defined under Rule 2(e) of CCR. It is not under dispute that the appellant had availed Cenvat credit on input/input services which were used in relation to both dutiable and exempted activity. Therefore, it was imperative on the appellant, to either, not take CENVAT credit in respect of input service used in trading activity or maintain separate accounts as per Rule 6(2), ibid. However, as is already mentioned, the appellant took CENVAT credit in respect of input service used in trading activity and also failed to maintain separate accounts. Therefore, the provisions of Rule 6 (3) of CCR clearly attracts in appellant's case. However, looking into the spirit of Board's circular as referred to above, I hold that the Cenvat credit demanded is not more than the credit availed. In the instant case, I observe that the demand was raised on the basis of percentage of trading value. Therefore, the Cenvat credit availed on such exempted service is required to be determined. In the circumstances, I feel that this issue is required to be considered by the adjudicating authority for determining the Cenvat credit availed by the appellant on such exempted service, as such, I remand the issue to the adjudicating authority for considering the matter in view of above discussion.

14. I find that the adjudicating authority has imposed penalty under Section 11 AC (1)(a) of the Central Excise Act, 1944 in respect of amount liable to pay under Rule 6 (3) of CCR. The penalty imposed under the said Section is required to be modified as the demand of amount liable to pay under Rule 6(3) of CCR is modified, as discussed above.

15. In this backdrop, I partially modify the impugned order. The appeal filed by the appellant stands disposed of in above terms (अपीलकर्ता द्वारा दर्ज की गई अपील का निपटारा उपरोक्त तरीके से किया जाता है।).
