Order in appeal

The subject appeal is filed by M/s. Vaibhav Auto Industries,41,New Ahmedabad Ind. Estate, Moraiya, Ta-Sanand, Dist-Ahmedabad, against Order in Original No.67/ADC/2015/DSN [hereinafter referred to as the impugned order] passed by the additional commissioner, Central Excise, Ahmedabad-II (hereinafter referred to as the adjudicating authority). The appellant is engaged in the manufacture of Chakkado Rickshaw falling under Chapter 87 of the First Schedule to the Central Excise Tariff Act, 1985, (hereinafter also referred to as CETA, 1985). they are holding valid Registration issued by the department. The duty of excise is paid on the Chakkdo Rickshaw based on the transaction value as per Section 4 of the Central Excise Act, 1944 (herein after referred to as the said Act).

Brief facts of the case is that, team of Officers from DGCEI, Ahmedabad, 2. conducted search and verification of the appellant's Office and factory premises, and the premises of the agent M/s Manish Auto, Keshod. On dated 06.10.2009. During the course of investigation, a statement of Shri Kanjibhai Ahir, proprietor was recorded, wherein, the details of raw materials used in the manufacture of Chakkdo Rickshaw and its cost was stated by him. The Officers of DGCEI, recorded yet another statement of Kanjibhai Ahir on 01.10.2010, wherein, it was stated by him that the assessable value of the Chakkdo Rickshaw manufactured was Rs.61,000/ and apart from it, they charged for body work and accessories if required by the Customers. The Department booked case against the appellant charging undervaluation of "three-wheeled transport vehicles" manufactured and cleared by them during the period from December 2005 to January 2010. On completion of investigation, a Show Cause Notice issued on 01.10.2010, for recovery of duty short paid. It is seen that even after the detection, the appellant has continued with the practice of not declaring the proper value and not paying appropriate duty on the excisable goods cleared and therefore, four show Cause Notices were issued in the subsequent period, demanding duty short paid. All these notices have been adjudicated, upholding the duty demand. In the present case, the period from January, 2013 to September, 2013, is involved and based on the • ER-1 returns and correspondence made with the appellant, jurisdictional Central Excise Officers had ascertained that a total number of 415, three wheeled transport vehicles" were manufactured and cleared by showing an assessable value of Rs 67,000/- per vehicle. The Joint Commissioner of Central Excise, Ahmedabad -II, issued show cuase Notice dated 22.01.2014, for differential duty of Rs. 7,08,322/ (including Automobile Cess), to be recovered from the appellant under the proviso to Section 11 A (1) of the said Act; penalty under provisions of Rule 25 of the Central Excise Rules, 2002 (CER, 2002) read with Section 11AC of the said Act; and interest to be recovered under Section 11AB of the said Act. the adjudicating authority vide above order confirmed the demand with interest and has imposed a penalty of Rs. 7,08,3220/- under section 11AC of the said Act and penalty Rs. 3,50,000/ under Rule 25 of the CER, 2002.

3. Being aggrieved with the impugned order, the appellant prefered this appeal on the following main grounds.

a. The adjudicating authority in the impugned order has held that the advance booking amount as collected by M/s Manish Auto, Keshod was not included in the assessable value. The adjudicating authority had proceeded on an incorrect appreciation of fact that the costing in all cases of one Chakkdo Rickshaw was Rs. 67,275/, whereas the value as shown in the ER 1 returns was Rs. 61,000/. The appellant in his statement stated the general cost of manufacturing of one Chakkdo Rickshaw and the same depended upon the type of Diesel Engine, Gear Box and the accessories used. Therefore, it cannot be inferred that in all cases the cost of production of one Chakkdo Rickshaw would be Rs. 67,275/. The impugned order having been passed on mere presumption and assumption is thus legally not tenable and deserves to be quashed and set aside.

b. The adjudicating authority has proceeded on the basis that as the cost of raw material and labour is increasing every day and therefore, it is not possible to sell the finished goods at the prices prevailing in 2009. It is submitted that the prices of raw materials have not changed substantially and to be competitive in the market, the margin of profit had to be curtailed. In absence of any evidence to support the above findings of the adjudicating authority, the entire proceedings are vitiated on the grounds of no evidenc. In the present proceedings, no evidence either direct or indirect has been brought on record that the appellant had collected an amount over and in excess to what had been reflected in the invoices on which the duty of excise was paid. In the present case, no evidence has been brought to show that the genuine. were not invoices the value as shown in transaction c. The adjudicating authority has grossly erred in holding that the booking amount was collected directly or by agents is nothing but advance payments made by buyers and the same is required to be included in the assessable value. The appellant submits that no evidence of any sort has been adduced to show that it had collected directly any booking amount from the buyers. The appellant submits that Section 4 of the said Act, it makes clear that the assessable value will be the price at which the goods are sold by the manufacturer and it does not include any sales tax, excise duty or any other tax. In support of above contention, the appellant relied on the decision in the case of CCE Surat V Baba Synthetics, reported at 2012 (278) ELT113 (Tri.-Ahd).

4. Personal hearing was fixed on dated 20-01-16,19-02-16 and on18-3-16. However, no one attended the PH. The appellant has filed the written submission earlier, and requested to allow the appeal. I have carefully gone through all case records placed before me in the form of Show Cause Notice, the impugned order and written submissions made by appellant. I find that the issue to decide in this appeal pertains to the differential duty demanded and penalties imposed under Section 11AC of the Central Excise Act1944 read with Rule 25 of Central Excise Rules, 2002.I find that, it has been contended by the appellant that in terms of Section 4, transaction value will be the price at which the goods are sold by the manufacturer without including duties and taxes and further, there is no evidence to show that the value shown in the invoices raised was not the correct value and that excess amount was recovered from the buyers. The case of CCE, Surat Vs Baba Synthetics, reported at 2012 (278) ELT 113 was cited in this regard. I find that, even in the year 2009, the cost of various input/raw materials and labour required for manufacture of one "three wheeled transport vehicle" was quantified as Rs 67,275/- as stated by the proprietor, with cost of materials and labour increasing with each day, it is not possible for a manufacturer to sell the final products in the year 2013, by having a transaction value equal to the cost price that prevailed in 2009. Therefore, this in itself is the best evidence to conclude that the value shown in the invoice does not reflect the correct price. Since on every vehicle, a profit of Rs 7000/- was earned and a minimum body work of Rs 6,000/- was required for presenting the vehicle for RTO inspection, the selling price of the vehicle was admitted by the appellant to be Rs80,000/- plus taxes during the DGCEI investigation. It is also on record that since the entire value was not shown in the invoices, the balance amount was collected in cash through booking agents appointed by the appellant who worked as financiers and RTO/ Insurance agents. The facts disclosed during the investigations have not been disowned by the appellant. Further, there is no attempt made to explain how they could afford to sell the vehicles at the price declared in the invoices when the same is less than even the cost of inputs. Therefore, there is clear evidence to conclude that the value shown in the invoice is not the correct price and extra amount was collected from the buyers. I find that, the case of Baba Synthetics reported at 2012 (278) ELT 113, involved quantification of additional consideration based on details reflected in the "Sauda Book" kept by one Broker of the assessee in that case and Central Excise invoice. In the present case, quantification of duty is not based on any documents recovered from others premises. There is also no dispute about the number of vehicles manufactured and cleared by the assessee. Cost of materials and labour required for manufacture of the final product is also on record, and not disputed. The facts involved being different the case law does not help the appellant.

5. I find that, the appellant has cited the case of Sterlite Industries (I) Ltd reported at 2005 (189)ELT 329 (T), in support of the contention, that additional consideration for valuation cannot be proved by taking average value of all clearances and the burden of proof lies on the revenue and its cannot be said that the assessee did not produce necessary documents. I find the case cited involved valuation of Copper Cathods and Copper rods wherein, for some clearances the price Circular issued by the said Company was not followed and lower price was charged. It was in that context the valuation was challenged. In the present Case, since all "three wheeled transport vehicles" manufactured by the appellant being identical, the appellant themselves have declared value average Rs. 67,000/- per vehicle in the ER-1 returns during the entire period. Further, by showing that declared value is less than even the cost price of the goods sold, department has discharged initial burden. The appellant have not rebutted any of the charges leveled regarding excess collection of money towards value as advance deposits. Therefore, the case law involved different issue and the submission made is not acceptable.

f.no. V2[87]6/Ahd-II/Appeal-II/2015-16

6. I find that, the appellant has contended that where the duty demanded subsequent to the sale of goods, it is to be abated from the cumduty received. In support, they cited the case of Eon Polymers 2011 [263]ELT 545[TRI. DEL]. I find that Hon.Supreme court in the case of M/s Amrit Agro Industries Vs CCE, Gaziabad, has held that, 'unless it is shown by the manufacturer that the price of the goods includes excise duty payable by him, no question of exclusion of duty element from the price for determination of value under section 4(4)(d)(ii) will arise" an Order passed by the Supreme Court is the last word on a given subject.therfore, The case law cited by the appellant would not help the case of the appellant.

7. With regard to the issue of penalty under Rule 25 of Central Excise Rules, 2002, I find that, the sub rule (1) of rule 25 of Central Excise Rule, 2002 deals with confiscation and penalty. It reads as follows:

RULE 25. (1) Subject to the provisions of section 11AC of the Act, if any producer. manufacturer, registered person of a warehouse or a registered dealer, (a) removes any excisable goods in contravention of any of the provisions of these rules or the notifications issued under these rules; or

(b) does not account for any excisable goods produced or manufactured or stored by him; or

(c) engages in the manufacture, production or storage of any excisable goods without having applied for the registration certificate required u der section 6 of the Act; or

(d) contravenes any of the provisions of these rules or the notifications issued under these rules with intent to evade payment of duty, then, all such goods shall be liable to confiscation and the producer or manufacturer or regisered person of the warehouse or a registered dealer, as the case may be, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding the duty on the excisable goods in respect of which any contravention of the nature referred to in clause (a) or clause (b) o clause (c) or clause (d) has been committed, or [two thousand rupees], whichever is greater.

In the present case, there is removal of excisable goods without payment of appropriate duty and this is a contravention of provisions of Central Excise rules. I find that the appellant has willfully not disclosed the entire value towards the sale of excisable goods in their excise invoices nor paid the proper duty. In the present case, the appellant has not disclosed any facts relevant to the issue. Therefore, I hold that the penalty imposed on the appellant is justified and legal.

With reference to the imposition of penalties under Section11AC of Central 8. Excise Act1944 and Rule 25 of the Central Excise Rules 2002, I find that the appellant has submitted that separate penalty on the proprietor is not imposable when the firm is penalized. I find that, the appellant has cleared excisable goods by not including the entire amount collected from the buyers in the assessable value and there is a short payment of duty. I find that, the appellant is making repeated references to the term "transaction value" but they fail to understand that any payment towards the value received in connection with the sale of the excisable goods, would be a part of the transaction value even if the same is not reflected in any invoice/bill. In view of the above, I find that the appellant has willfully not disclosed the entire value towards the sale of excisable goods in their excise invoices nor paid the proper duty. In the present case, since the appellant has not disclosed any facts relevant to the issue. It appeared that all these contraventions have been committed by way of suppression of facts with intent to evade payment of central excise duty. Therefore, the appellants have rendered themselves liable for penal action under Section 11AC under sub section (1)(a) of the Central Excise Act, 1944 read with Rule 25 of the Central Excise Rules, 2002.

9. In view of the foregoing discussions, I hold that appellant have clearly suppressed the material facts of entire value towards the sale of excisable goods in their excise invoices nor paid proper duty on the clearance of excisable goods. I fully agree with the observations of the adjudicating authority. Therefore, I hold that the penalties imposed on the appellant are justified and legal.

10. In view of above, I uphold the impugned order and reject the appeal.

The appeal is disposed off accordingly.
