II. Any person aggrieved by an Order-in-Appeal issued under the Central Goods and Services Tax Act, 2017/Integrated Goods and Services Tax Act, 2017/Goods and Services Tax (Compensation to States) Act, 2017, may file an appeal before the appropriate authority.

ORDER-IN-APPEAL

This appeal has been filed by M/s Navratan Specialities Chemicals, LLP, Block No.400, Village Chharodi, Sanand-Viramgam Road, Sanand, Ahmedabad [hereinafter referred to as "appellant"] against Order-in-Original No.07/Ref/II/19-20 dated 02.08.2019 [hereinafter referred to as "impugned order"] passed by the Deputy Commissioner, CGST, Division-III, Ahmedabad North [hereinafter referred to as "adjudicating authority"].

2. Facts of the case, in brief, are that the appellant had filed a refund claim for an amount of Rs.98,815/- on 15.05.2019 with the department on the ground that they have paid the said amount as Customs Duty (CVD and SAD) due to non-fulfillment of export obligation in respect of goods imported prior to 01.07.2017 i.e before GST regim, under Advance Authorization; that under GST law there is no specific provision or mechanism to avail Cenvat Credit of CVD and SAD. As per contention of the appellant, they were eligible for Cenvat credit of the said CVD and SAD amount paid by them in pre-GST regime and it was not feasible to avail and utilize such Cenvat Credit in GST regime, they filed the refund claim in question under Section 11B of the Central Excise Act, 1944 as the credit admissible under existing law is to be refunded as provided under transitory provisions of CGST law under Section 142 (3) and 142(6) (a) of the CGST Act, 2017. The adjudicating authority, vide impugned, has rejected the said refund claim on the grounds that the refund claim does not fulfill the conditions of Section 142 (3) of the CGST Act; that in view of provision 142(8) (a) of the CGST Act, the duty and interest paid by them were recoverable under the existing law and amount so recovered shall not be admissible as input service credit. Further, the case does not fall under any of the categories for claiming refund under the Central Excise Act/Rule.

3. Being aggrieved with the impugned order, the appellant has filed the instant appeal on the grounds that:

- The Additional Duty of Excise which is being paid before implementation of GST as part of Customs duty is eligible as Cenvat Credit as per provisions of Cenvat Credit Rules, 2004; that however, due to implementation of GST w.e.f 01.07.2017, they could not take such Cenvat Credit and were left with no other option but to ask the cash refund of CVD & SAD under Section 142 of the CGST Act.
- Their claim to credit of Cenvat credit in respect of CVD and SAD so paid is protect by Section 174 of the CGST Act; that as per Section 174(2)© of the Act, it is clear that even if the Central Excise Act has been repealed the right of the appellant under the repealed Act shall not be affected, since the Cenvat credit is admissible under Cenvat Credit Rules, 2004 even after repeal of the Act/Rule.

- The adjudicating authority has failed to appreciate the provisions of Section 142(3) and 142(6)(a) of the CGST Act in its right spirit; that in the present case, application is for refund of Cenvat Credit of CVD & SAD paid under existing law and the same is initiated after the appointed date and so the claim is required to be sanctioned and paid in terms of Section 142(3) of the CGST Act, 2017.
- The allegation that the refund claim is not covered by any of the sub section 11B of the Central Excise Act, 1944 is incorrect; that the instant case is squarely covered by clause © of Section 11 B(2) of the Act.

4. Personal Hearing in the matter was held on 23.03.2020. Shri Manohar Maheshwari, Authorized Representative appeared on behalf the appellant and reiterated the submissions made in Appeal Memorandum. He further stated that in similar matter in Sudarshan Chemicals, Commissioner (Appeals), Raigad had decided in party's favour.

5. I have carefully gone through the facts of the case and submissions made by the appellant in the Appeal Memorandum and oral submissions made at the time of Personal Hearing. It is observed that the issue to be decided in the matter is as to whether the appellant is eligible for refund of CVD and SAD paid for the goods imported under the Advance License for which export obligation was not fulfilled in terms of the Customs Act, 1962, under Section 142(3) and 142(8)(a) of the CGST Act, 2017.

6. It is observed that the appellant had imported duty free inputs under Advance Licenses for using in their resultant products for export. It is further observed that due to non fulfillment of export obligation under Advance License, they paid Customs Duty, CVD and SAD towards imported goods along with interest. It is the contention of the appellant that the amount of Rs.98,815/- paid towards CVD and SAD is eligible to them as Cenvat Credit under the erstwhile Cenvat Credit Rules, but due to introduction of GST w.e.f 01.07.2017, they could not avail the said amount as Cenvat Credit and the only option left out is to file a refund claim under the provisions of Section 142 of CGST Act, 2017.

7. I find that the provisions of Section 142(3) and 142(6) (a) of the CGST Act, 2017 deals with the refund relating to Cenvat Credit, duty, interest under the existing law and 142(8)(a) of the CGST Act deals with eligibility of Cenvat credit . They are reproduced below:

- Section 142(3) of the CGST Act, 2017:

(3) Every claim for refund filed by any person before, on or after the appointed day, for refund of any amount of CENVAT credit, duty, tax, interest or any other amount paid under the existing law, shall be disposed of in accordance with the provisions of existing law and any amount eventually accruing to him shall be paid in cash, notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained under the provisions of existing law other than the provisions of sub-section (2) of section 11B of the Central Excise Act, 1944 (1 of 1944) :

Provided that where any claim for refund of CENVAT credit is fully or partially rejected, the amount so rejected shall lapse:

Provided further that no refund shall be allowed of any amount of CENVAT credit where the balance of the said amount as on the appointed day has been carried forward under this Act.

- Section 142(6) (a) of the CGST Act, 2017 reads as under:

(6) (a) every proceeding of appeal, review or reference relating to a claim for CENVAT credit initiated whether before, on or after the appointed day under the existing law shall be disposed of in accordance with the provisions of existing law, and any amount of credit found to be admissible to the claimant shall be refunded to him in cash, notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained under the provisions of existing law other than the provisions of sub-section (2) of section 11B of the Central Excise Act, 1944 and the amount rejected, if any, shall not be admissible as input tax credit under this Act:

- Section 142(8)(a) of the CGST Act, 2017 reads as under:

(8)(a) where in pursuance of an assessment or adjudication proceedings instituted, whether before, on or after the appointed day, under the existing law, any amount of tax, interest, fine or penalty becomes recoverable from the person, the same shall, unless recovered under the existing law, be recovered as an arrear of tax under this Act and the amount so recovered shall not be admissible as input tax credit under this Act;

9. In the instant case, I find that the appellant has filed the refund claim in respect of CVD & SAD paid against import of items under the Advance License Scheme and EPCG Scheme, as they could not avail the Cenvat credit of such payment. Section 142 (3) ibid states that in case of refund of any amount of CENVAT credit, duty, tax, interest or any other amount paid under the existing law paid under the existing law, filed before, on or after 01.07.2017, shall be disposed of in accordance with the provisions of existing law and any amount eventually accruing to him shall be paid in cash, notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained under the provisions of existing law other than the provisions of sub-section (2) of section 11B of the CEA. I find that the amount in question paid towards CVD & SAD, while import of materials, is not a duty prescribed under existing law i.e. under Central Excise Act. Hence, provision of Section 142 ibid is not applicable in the instant case and accordingly, refund in terms of Section 142 ibid does not arise in the case. The appellant has further contended that they were eligible to take Cenvat Credit of the said amount, if they paid the said amount before implementation of GST with effect from 01.07.2017 and in the present situation, they could not take any credit of such duty, therefore, the only option left out is to file refund of the amount. I find that this argument does not have any legal backup. For getting refund of Cenvat Credit under existing law i.e under the Cenvat Credit Rules, 2004, one has to avail the Cenvat Credit first under the said Rule. The provisions under Cenvat Credit Rules do not allow refund of Cenvat Credit in cash, unless it is availed. Therefore, there is no merit in the said contention of the appellant.

10. Further, I find that the instant case is not arising out of any appeal proceedings, review or reference to a claim of Cenvat Credit, therefore, Section 142(6) (a) of the CGST Act is also not applicable to them.

11. In the instant case, the appellant had paid the amount in question with interest for non-fulfillment of export obligation under the Advance Authorization Scheme/EPCG Scheme in GST era as arrears of pending dues. In the circumstances, as per Section 142(8)(a) of the CGST Act also the credit on AED/SAD paid by the appellant is not admissible to them; that Section 142(8)(a) of the CGST Act, 2017 stipulates that "where in pursuance of an assessment or adjudication proceedings instituted, whether before, on or after the appointed day, under the existing law, any amount of tax, interest, fine or penalty becomes recoverable from the person, the same shall, unless recovered under the existing law, be recovered as an arrear of tax under this Act and the amount so recovered shall not be admissible as input tax credit under this Act".

12. The appellant has contended that Section 11 B of the CEA clearly provides refund of Cenvat Credit of duty paid on excisable goods used in inputs; that the inputs imported had suffered CVD & SAD and Cenvat Credit on such duty is eligible to them. I find that the adjudicating authority has also considered provisions of Section 11 B (2) of the CEA for rejecting the refund claim in question. I find that Section 11 B(2) of the CEA only stipulates for claiming refund of Central Excise duty, interest, rebate of duty of excise, credit of duty paid and not Customs Duty paid on import of materials. Therefore, the contention of the appellant is not sustainable.

13. The appellant has relied on Order-in-Appeal No.MKK/397-398/RGD APP/2018-19 dated 21.12.2018 passed by the Commissioner (Appeals), Raigad, wherein, the Commissioner (Appeals) has allowed refund in similar situation. I distinguish the said OIA from this case as in the case quoted by the appellant, there was no dispute regarding availment of CENVAT, which is not in the instant case.

14. Further, I find that the Hon'ble CESTAT, Chennai in the case of M/s Servo Packaging Ltd [2020-VIL-72-CESTAT-CH-CE], has decided an identical issue in favour of the department by denying refund of CVD and SAD paid on unfulfilled export obligation against Advance Authorization. The Relevant para of the said decision is as under:

"10. Thus, the availability of CENVAT paid on inputs despite failure to meet with the export obligation may not hold good here since, firstly, it was a conditional import and secondly, such import was to be exclusively used as per FTP. Moreover, such imported inputs cannot be used anywhere else but for export and hence, claiming input credit upon failure would defeat the very purpose/mandate of the Advance Licence. Hence, claim as to the benefit of CENVAT just as a normal import which is suffering duty is also unavailable for the very same reasons, also since the rules/procedures/conditions governing normal import VILGST Passion to Deliver VATinfoline Multimedia www.vilgst.com Page - 5 - of 5 compared to the one under Advance Authorization may vary because of the nature of import.

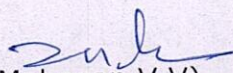

11. The import which would have normally suffered duty having escaped due to one which ultimately stood unsatisfied naturally loses the privileges and the only way is to tax the import. The governing Notification No. 18/2015 (supra), paragraph 2.35 of the FTP which requires execution of bond, etc., in case of non-fulfilment of export obligation and paragraph 4.50 of the HBP read together would mean that the legislature has visualized the case of nonfulfilment of export obligation, which drives an assessee to paragraph 4.50 of the HBP whereby the payment of duty has been prescribed in case of bona fide default in export obligation, which also takes care of voluntary payment of duty with interest as well. Admittedly, the inputs imported have gone into the manufacture of goods meant for export, but the export did not take place. At best, the appellant could have availed the CENVAT Credit, but that would not ipso facto give them any right to claim refund of such credit in cash with the onset of G.S.T. because CENVAT is an option available to an assessee to be exercised and the same cannot be enforced by the CESTAT at this stage."

13. Looking into the facts and circumstances of the instant case and by following the decision referred to above, I find that the adjudicating authority has correctly rejected the refund claim and I do not find any merit to interfere the impugned order passed by the adjudicating authority. Therefore, I reject the appeal filed by the appellant and uphold the impugned order.

13. The appeal stands disposed of in above terms.

II. Any person aggrieved by an Order-in-Appeal issued under the Central Goods and Services Tax Act, 2017/Integrated Goods and Services Tax Act, 2017/Goods and Services Tax (Compensation to States) Act, 2017, may file an appeal before the appropriate authority.

ORDER-IN-APPEAL

This appeal has been filed by M/s Navratan Specialities Chemicals, LLP, Block No.400, Village Chharodi, Sanand-Viramgam Road, Sanand, Ahmedabad [hereinafter referred to as "appellant"] against Order-in-Original No.07/Ref/II/19-20 dated 02.08.2019 [hereinafter referred to as "impugned order"] passed by the Deputy Commissioner, CGST, Division-III, Ahmedabad North [hereinafter referred to as "adjudicating authority"].

2. Facts of the case, in brief, are that the appellant had filed a refund claim for an amount of Rs.98,815/- on 15.05.2019 with the department on the ground that they have paid the said amount as Customs Duty (CVD and SAD) due to non-fulfillment of export obligation in respect of goods imported prior to 01.07.2017 i.e before GST regime, under Advance Authorization; that under GST law there is no specific provision or mechanism to avail Cenvat Credit of CVD and SAD. As per contention of the appellant, they were eligible for Cenvat credit of the said CVD and SAD amount paid by them in pre-GST regime and it was not feasible to avail and utilize such Cenvat Credit in GST regime, they filed the refund claim in question under Section 11B of the Central Excise Act, 1944 as the credit admissible under existing law is to be refunded as provided under transitory provisions of CGST law under Section 142 (3) and 142(6) (a) of the CGST Act, 2017. The adjudicating authority, vide impugned, has rejected the said refund claim on the grounds that the refund claim does not fulfill the conditions of Section 142 (3) of the CGST Act; that in view of provision 142(8) (a) of the CGST Act, the duty and interest paid by them were recoverable under the existing law and amount so recovered shall not be admissible as input service credit. Further, the case does not fall under any of the categories for claiming refund under the Central Excise Act/Rule.

3. Being aggrieved with the impugned order, the appellant has filed the instant appeal on the grounds that:

- The Additional Duty of Excise which is being paid before implementation of GST as part of Customs duty is eligible as Cenvat Credit as per provisions of Cenvat Credit Rules, 2004; that however, due to implementation of GST w.e.f 01.07.2017, they could not take such Cenvat Credit and were left with no other option but to ask the cash refund of CVD & SAD under Section 142 of the CGST Act.
- Their claim to credit of Cenvat credit in respect of CVD and SAD so paid is protect by Section 174 of the CGST Act; that as per Section 174(2)© of the Act, it is clear that even if the Central Excise Act has been repealed the right of the appellant under the repealed Act shall not be

- Section 142(3) of the CGST Act, 2017:

(3) Every claim for refund filed by any person before, on or after the appointed day, for refund of any amount of CENVAT credit, duty, tax, interest or any other amount paid under the existing law, shall be disposed of in accordance with the provisions of existing law and any amount eventually accruing to him shall be paid in cash, notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained under the provisions of existing law other than the provisions of sub-section (2) of section 11B of the Central Excise Act, 1944 (1 of 1944) :

Provided that where any claim for refund of CENVAT credit is fully or partially rejected, the amount so rejected shall lapse:

Provided further that no refund shall be allowed of any amount of CENVAT credit where the balance of the said amount as on the appointed day has been carried forward under this Act.

- Section 142(6) (a) of the CGST Act, 2017 reads as under:

(6) (a) every proceeding of appeal, review or reference relating to a claim for CENVAT credit initiated whether before, on or after the appointed day under the existing law shall be disposed of in accordance with the provisions of existing law, and any amount of credit found to be admissible to the claimant shall be refunded to him in cash, notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained under the provisions of existing law other than the provisions of sub-section (2) of section 11B of the Central Excise Act, 1944 and the amount rejected, if any, shall not be admissible as input tax credit under this Act:

- Section 142(8)(a) of the CGST Act, 2017 reads as under:

(8)(a) where in pursuance of an assessment or adjudication proceedings instituted, whether before, on or after the appointed day, under the existing law, any amount of tax, interest, fine or penalty becomes recoverable from the person, the same shall, unless recovered under the existing law, be recovered as an arrear of tax under this Act and the amount so recovered shall not be admissible as input tax credit under this Act;

9. In the instant case, I find that the appellant has filed the refund claim in respect of CVD & SAD paid against import of items under the Advance License Scheme and EPCG Scheme, as they could not avail the Cenvat credit of such payment. Section 142 (3) ibid states that in case of refund of any amount of CENVAT credit, duty, tax, interest or any other amount paid under the existing law paid under the existing law, filed before, on or after 01.07.2017, shall be disposed of in accordance with the provisions of existing law and any amount eventually accruing to him shall be paid in cash, notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained under the provisions of existing law other than the provisions of sub-section (2) of section 11B of the CEA. I find that the amount in question paid towards CVD & SAD, while import of materials, is not a duty prescribed under existing law i.e. under Central Excise Act. Hence, provision of Section 142 ibid is not applicable in the instant case and accordingly, refund in terms of Section 142 ibid does not arise in the case. The appellant has further contended that they were eligible to take Cenvat Credit of the said amount, if they paid the said amount before implementation of GST with effect from 01.07.2017 and in the present situation, they could not take any credit of such duty, therefore, the only option left out is to file refund of the amount. I find that this argument does not have any legal backup. For getting refund of Cenvat Credit under existing law i.e under the Cenvat Credit Rules, 2004, one has to avail the Cenvat Credit first under the said Rule. The provisions under Cenvat Credit Rules do not allow refund of Cenvat Credit in cash, unless it is availed. Therefore, there is no merit in the said contention of the appellant.

10. Further, I find that the instant case is not arising out of any appeal proceedings, review or reference to a claim of Cenvat Credit, therefore, Section 142(6) (a) of the CGST Act is also not applicable to them.

11. In the instant case, the appellant had paid the amount in question with interest for non-fulfillment of export obligation under the Advance Authorization Scheme/EPCG Scheme in GST era as arrears of pending dues. In the circumstances, as per Section 142(8)(a) of the CGST Act also the credit on AED/SAD paid by the appellant is not admissible to them; that Section 142(8)(a) of the CGST Act, 2017 stipulates that "where in pursuance of an assessment or adjudication proceedings instituted, whether before, on or after the appointed day, under the existing law, any amount of tax, interest, fine or penalty becomes recoverable from the person, the same shall, unless recovered under the existing law, be recovered as an arrear of tax under this Act and the amount so recovered shall not be admissible as input tax credit under this Act".

12. The appellant has contended that Section 11 B of the CEA clearly provides refund of Cenvat Credit of duty paid on excisable goods used in inputs; that the inputs imported had suffered CVD & SAD and Cenvat Credit on such duty is eligible to them. I find that the adjudicating authority has also considered provisions of Section 11 B (2) of the CEA for rejecting the refund claim in question. I find that Section 11 B(2) of the CEA only stipulates for claiming refund of Central Excise duty, interest, rebate of duty of excise, credit of duty paid and not Customs Duty paid on import of materials. Therefore, the contention of the appellant is not sustainable.

13. The appellant has relied on Order-in-Appeal No.MKK/397-398/RGD APP/2018-19 dated 21.12.2018 passed by the Commissioner (Appeals), Raigad, wherein, the Commissioner (Appeals) has allowed refund in similar situation. I distinguish the said OIA from this case as in the case quoted by the appellant, there was no dispute regarding availment of CENVAT, which is not in the instant case.

14. Further, I find that the Hon'ble CESTAT, Chennai in the case of M/s Servo Packaging Ltd [2020-VIL-72-CESTAT-CH-CE], has decided an identical issue in favour of the department by denying refund of CVD and SAD paid on unfulfilled export obligation against Advance Authorization. The Relevant para of the said decision is as under:

"10. Thus, the availability of CENVAT paid on inputs despite failure to meet with the export obligation may not hold good here since, firstly, it was a conditional import and secondly, such import was to be exclusively used as per FTP. Moreover, such imported inputs cannot be used anywhere else but for export and hence, claiming input credit upon failure would defeat the very purpose/mandate of the Advance Licence. Hence, claim as to the benefit of CENVAT just as a normal import which is suffering duty is also unavailable for the very same reasons, also since the rules/procedures/conditions governing normal import VILGST Passion to Deliver VATinfoline Multimedia www.vilgst.com Page - 5 - of 5 compared to the one under Advance Authorization may vary because of the nature of import.

11. The import which would have normally suffered duty having escaped due to one which ultimately stood unsatisfied naturally loses the privileges and the only way is to tax the import. The governing Notification No. 18/2015 (supra), paragraph 2.35 of the FTP which requires execution of bond, etc., in case of non-fulfilment of export obligation and paragraph 4.50 of the HBP read together would mean that the legislature has visualized the case of nonfulfilment of export obligation, which drives an assessee to paragraph 4.50 of the HBP whereby the payment of duty has been prescribed in case of bona fide default in export obligation, which also takes care of voluntary payment of duty with interest as well. Admittedly, the inputs imported have gone into the manufacture of goods meant for export, but the export did not take place. At best, the appellant could have availed the CENVAT Credit, but that would not ipso facto give them any right to claim refund of such credit in cash with the onset of G.S.T. because CENVAT is an option available to an assessee to be exercised and the same cannot be enforced by the CESTAT at this stage."

13. Looking into the facts and circumstances of the instant case and by following the decision referred to above, I find that the adjudicating authority has correctly rejected the refund claim and I do not find any merit to interfere the impugned order passed by the adjudicating authority. Therefore, I reject the appeal filed by the appellant and uphold the impugned order.

13. The appeal stands disposed of in above terms.
