ORDER IN APPEAL

These orders arise on account of three appeals filed by M/s Intas Pharmaceuticals Ltd., Corporate House, Near Sola Bridge, S.G. Highway, Thaltej, Ahmedabad-38054 (in short 'Appellant') against below mentioned three Orders-in-Original ( in short 'impugned orders') passed by the Assistant Commissioner, CGST, Division-VI, Ahmedabad North (in short 'adjudicating authority'), wherein three refund claims filed by the appellant were rejected.

| Sr. No. | Order-In-Original No. and Date | Amount of refund involved | Appeal No. |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1 | GST-06/Refund/44/AC/JRS/ Intas/2019-20 dt. 18.03.2020 | Rs. 17,80,155/- | GAPPL/COM/STP/158/2020-APPEAL |
| 2 | GST-06/Refund/42/AC/JRS/ Intas/2019-20 dt. 18.03.2020 | Rs. 69,80,898/- | GAPPL/COM/STP/159/2020-APPEAL |
| 3 | GST-06/Refund/43/AC/JRS/ Intas/2019-20 dt. 18.03.2020 | Rs. 84,13,542/- | GAPPL/COM/STP/160/2020-APPEAL |

2.1. Facts of the case, in brief, are that the appellant are engaged in the business of manufacturing, sale and marketing of Pharmaceutical Products falling under Chapter 29 & 30 of the erstwhile Central Excise Tariff Act, 1985 and having GST registration No. 24AAAC15120L1ZU for Gujarat. They had filed three refund claims, for amounts as mentioned in the above table, with the department in respect of CVD and SAD paid by them on goods imported along with copies of Licenses, BOEs and copies of Challans and calculation sheets evidencing payment of duty and interest. They had earlier imported various raw materials under Advance Authorization in pre-GST regime. As per condition specified in the Advance Authorization, appellants were required to export the finished goods within prescribed time limit. However, they were unable to export the said finished goods within prescribed time limit and accordingly, they have paid applicable customs duties (including CVD & SAD) on raw materials imported under Advance Authorization in GST Regime. It is the contention of the appellant that the amount of CVD and SAD paid by them was available to them as Cenvat Credit under erstwhile Cenvat Credit Rules, 2004, however with the implementation of GST regime with effect from 01.07.2017, they were not in a position to avail the cenvat credit of CVD and SAD paid by them. Therefore, they filed the present refund claims under Section 142 of the CGST Act, 2017 on the grounds that they are not able to avail and utilize the credit of CVD and SAD as no provisions exist in the GST regime to avail such credit. Accordingly, Show Cause Notice under Section 142 of the CGST Act, 2017 read with Section 11B of the Central Excise Act,1944 was issued to the appellant.

2.2. The said SCN was adjudicated by the adjudicating authority vide impugned orders whereby he has rejected the said refund claims on the grounds that the refund claim does not fulfill the conditions of Section 142(3) or 142 (6)(a) of the CGST Act, 2017 supra and Section 11B of Central Excise Act, 1944. He further observed that the amount in question has been paid against liability that has arisen on account of non fulfillment of the condition of advance license by the claimant and therefore, the amount paid by them in the case has to be treated as arrears of tax and hence the same is not available as input tax credit in view of the provisions of Section 142(8)(a) of the CGST Act, 2017.

3. Being aggrieved with the impugned orders, the appellant has filed the instant appeals on the grounds that:

- in the impugned order, it is recorded that the appellants have paid CVD and SAD after 01.07.2017 in compliance of fulfillment of the conditions of Advance Authorization and said amount was available as Cenvat Credit under erstwhile Cenvat Credit Rules, 2004 and as there is no provision of availing input tax credit of CVD and SAD paid after 01.07.2017 and hence applied for refund in terms of Section 11B of Central Excise Act, 1944 read with Section 142(3) of the CGST Act, 2017;
- From the reading of the Transitional provisions under Section 142(3) of CGST Act, 2017, it is clear that refund of cenvat credit accruing as per earlier law, is to be paid in cash;
- The Assistant Commissioner, Central GST & Central Exicse, Division-VII, Vadodara-I Commissionerate has granted refund in cash under the provisions of Section 142(3) of CGST Act, 1944 read with Section 11B of Central Excise Act, 1944 to M/s R.R. Kabel Ltd., Waghodia, Vadodara on similar kind of situation as in the present case;
- They rely on the decision of CESTAT, Chennai in case of M/s Toshiba Machine Chennai Private Ltd. Vs. Commissioner of Central Excise, Outer Commissionerate, Chennai reported in 2018-VIL-667-CESTAT-CHE-CE;
- The Commissioner (Appeals), CGST & Central Excise, Vadodara-1 has decided identical matter in favour of assessee in the case of M/s Gujarat Infrapipes Pvt. Ltd. Karjan, Vadodara;
- Apart from the Section 142(3) of the CGST Act, 2017, Section 142(6)(a) of the CGST Act, 2017, expressely mandates that every proceeding of appeal, etc. relating to a claim of cenvat credit, initiated whether before, on or after appointed day under the existing law shall be disposed off in accordance with the provisions of existing law. Therefore, their claim for refund in cash of the cenvat credit, otherwise available to appellants in respect of CVD & SAD paid belatedly on the imported goods is legally and explicitly permissible in law;

- Independent of the aforesaid Sections 142(3) and 142(6)(a), since as per the saving clauses under Section 174 (2) (b) & (c), the repeal of the existing law shall not affect the previous operation of repealed Act or anything duly done or suffered or affect any right accrued under the repealed Act. Therefore, the mere fact that the levy of Excise duty is subsumed in GST w.e.f. 01.07.2017, will not, and cannot, take away their right of availment of Cenvat Credit in the same way as it cannot take away the right of the Department to recover CVD & SAD as per CETA, 1985 after 01.07.2017. In support of the appellant's reliance on the saving clauses (b) and (c) of Section 174(2), they rely on the case laws of (i) MANU/UP/0373/1978 (Allahabad HC) – Mehboob Raza Khan Vs. Mohd. Shah Khan & Ors.; (ii) AIR 1975 Delhi 155 – Mahender Nath Gupta Vs. Moti Ram Rattan Chand & Anr.; (iii) AIR 1971 SC 1193 – Jayantilal Amratlal Vs. UOI; and (iv) AIR 1966 SC 1415 – State of Kerala Vs. N. Sami Iyer; and
- The same Assistant Commissioner, CGST, Ahmedabad North vide Order-in-Original No.GST-06/Refund/56/AC/RJM/Intas/2018-19 dated 10.12.2018 for the period August 2017 to December 2017 has sanctioned refund of CVD & SAD under the provisions of Section 142 (3) of CGST Act, 2017 read with Section 11B of Central Excise Act, 1944.

4. Personal Hearing in the case was scheduled on 17.12.2020 through virtual mode in response to which appellant vide email dated 16.12.2020 informed that they do not wish to be heard in person and decide the appeal based on the appeal submissions.

5. I have carefully gone through the facts of the case and submissions made by the appellant in the Appeal Memorandum. I find that the issue to be decided in the matter is as to whether in the facts and circumstances of the case, the appellant's claims for refund of CVD and SAD paid in GST period in respect of import made under Advance Authorization during pre-GST period is legally permissible as per the provisions of Section 11B of the Central Excise Act, 1944 read with Section 142(3) of the CGST Act, 2017 or otherwise?

6. I observe that the issue involved in the instant cases have already been decided by me in the appellant's case vide Order-In-Appeal No. AHM-EXCUS-003-APP-17 to 22-20-21 dated 28.07.2020, issued on 10.08.2020. The issue being similar, relevant extracts of the order portion is reproduced below for reference:

> 7. I find that the provisions of Section 142(3) and 142(6) (a) of the CGST Act, 2017 deals with the refund relating to Cenvat Credit, duty, interest under the existing law. They are reproduced below:
> - Section 142(3) of the CGST Act, 2017:
>   (3) Every claim for refund filed by any person before, on or after the appointed day, for refund of any amount of CENVAT credit, duty, tax, interest or any other amount paid under the existing law, shall be disposed of in accordance with the provisions of existing law and any amount eventually accruing to him shall be paid in cash, notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained under the provisions of existing law other than the provisions of sub-section (2) of section 11B of the Central Excise Act, 1944 (1 of 1944) :
>   Provided that where any claim for refund of CENVAT credit is fully or partially rejected, the amount so rejected shall lapse :*
>   Provided further that no refund shall be allowed of any amount of CENVAT credit where the balance of the said amount as on the appointed day has been carried forward under this Act.*
> - Section 142(6) (a) of the CGST Act, 2017:
>   (6) (a) every proceeding of appeal, review or reference relating to a claim for CENVAT credit initiated whether before, on or after the appointed day under the existing law shall be disposed of in accordance with the provisions of existing law, and any amount of credit found to be admissible to the claimant shall be refunded to him in cash, notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained under the provisions of existing law other than the provisions of sub-section (2) of section 11B of the Central Excise Act, 1944 and the amount rejected, if any, shall not be admissible as input tax credit under this Act:
> 9. In the instant case, I find that the appellant has filed the refund claim in respect of CVD & SAD paid against earlier duty free import of items under the Advance Authorization, as they could not avail the Cenvat credit of such payment. Section 142 (3) ibid states that in case of refund of any amount of CENVAT credit, duty, tax, interest or any other amount paid under the existing law, filed before, on or after 01.07.2017, shall be disposed of in accordance with the provisions of existing law and any amount eventually accruing to him shall be paid in cash, notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained under the provisions of existing law other than the provisions of sub-section (2) of section 11B of the CEA. A plain reading of the said provisions makes it amply clear that for refund of any amount paid under the said Section, be it Cenvat Credit or duty or tax or interest or another other amount, the amount should have been paid under the existing law. It is only in respect of amounts paid under the existing law that the refund envisaged under Section 142(3) of CGST Act would be applicable. In the present case, the amount paid towards CVD & SAD, while import of materials, is paid under Customs law and is not a duty prescribed under the existing law i.e. under Central Excise Act. Further, the said amounts are not cenvat credit paid under the existing law. When the amount paid is not under the existing law, the provisions of Section 142 ibid cannot be applicable and consequently, no refunds in terms of Section 142 ibid arise in the case.
> 9.1 The appellant has further contended that they were eligible to take Cenvat Credit of the said amount under the erstwhile Cenvat Credit Rules, 2004 and in the present situation, they could not take any credit of such duty. Therefore, the only option left out is to file refund of the amount. I find that this argument does not have any legal backup. For getting refund of Cenvat Credit under existing law i.e under the Cenvat Credit Rules, 2004, one has to avail the Cenvat Credit first under the said Rule. The provisions under Cenvat Credit Rules do not allow refund of Cenvat Credit in cash, unless it is availed. I find that the appellant had procured duty free raw materials under Advance Authorization and hence were not eligible for availment of Cenvat at the time of receipt in their premises. Therefore, there is no merit in the said contention of the appellant.

9.2 Another contention of the appellant is that upon payment of the CVD and SAD involved in the imports, they have earned or there accrued a right to avail the cenvat credit on such duties paid and as per the provision of Section 174 (2) (b) (c) of the CGST Act, they are entitled to the credit of such duties paid. I do not find any merit in the said contention of the appellant for the reason that accrual of any rights or privileges mentioned under Section 174 ibid would be only to extent available on date of repeal of the relevant law viz. Cenvat Credit Rules, 2004 which is 01.07.2017. Regarding saving clauses of repealed laws, it is settled principle that saving means that it saves all the rights, it previously had, it does not give any new rights. Saving clauses are introduced in the Act, safeguard right after repeal, which but for saving would have been lost. It is not dispute in the present case that the amount towards CVD and SAD were paid after 01.07.2017. Therefore, even if the appellant's argument is considered, then also a right for credit of the said duties paid can be said to have earned or accrued only upon payment of such duty, not before that. It is more so when considering that at the time of import of goods, there was no intention of availing cenvat credit in respect of the said duties as the goods were imported duty free against Advance Authorization, the conditions of which they could not fulfill and the duties came to be paid as a consequence of that breach. The contention of the appellant in this regard is, therefore, not legally sustainable for there being no right for claim of cenvat credit accrues to them as on the date of repeal in this case. My above view is supported by the decision of the Hon'ble CESTAT in the case of Escorts Ltd. Vs. Commissioner of Central Excise, Delhi-IV [2017 (358) ELT 1140 (Tri.-Chan.)], wherein the Hon'ble Tribunal dealing with a similar kind of argument in the context of Rule 57E of the erstwhile Central Excise Rules, 1944 has held that:

" 9. The appellants have also submitted that the dispute in the present case pertains to the period from March 1995 to November 1995 as they had procured the inputs during that period. They argued that Section 38A protects their rights and privileges which have accrued to the appellants. The appellants relied upon the case law of Tamil Nadu Petro Products Ltd. (supra). They are apparently referring to Section 38A(c) of the Act on the basis that they had received the inputs in the year 1995 and had manufactured their final products.

10. We find that in the present case the spare parts were supplied to M/s. Escorts Ltd. - AMG (Tractor Plant) in 1995, the cause of action for payment of differential duty as per Settlement Commission took place in 2004 when the duty was paid in three equal installments between October, 2004 and December, 2004. Rule 57E of the Central Excise Rules, which is the basis of refund claim, was abolished w.e.f. 1-4-2000. Even if the party's claim of accrual of rights under Section 38A is admitted for a moment, it would only protect the claim of duty paid on date of abolition of the said rule. The accrual of any rights and privileges to the appellants would be limited to the extent available on the date of repeal of Rule 57E. Since on the date of repeal of Rule 57E, the extra differential duty liability fixed by Settlement Commission had not been paid, the same cannot be protected under Rule 57E, which had already been extinguished from the statute book on the date of such payment. It is the established principle that the law has to be applied as it existed at the time it was invoked. The refund claim for differential duty was filed in 2005 under Rule 57E but the said Rule was not in existence at that point of time. Hence, the relief sought by appellants under Rule 57E is not available to the appellants even by virtue of provision of Section 38A ibid."*

9.3. The appellant has further referred to Section 142(6) (a) of CGST Act, 2017. The said Section referred pertains to refund claim arising out of proceeding of appeal, review or reference relating to a claim for CENVAT credit initiated whether before, on or after GST regime. I find that the instant refund claim is not arising out of any appeal, review or reference proceedings under the existing law relating to a claim for Cenvat Credit. Therefore, the argument placed by the appellant in terms of Section ibid has no relevance in the matter.

10. Further, I find that the adjudicating authority has also considered provisions of Section 142 (8) (a) of the CGST Act, 2017 for rejecting the refund claim in question. In this regard, it is observed that the adjudicating authority's reliance on Section 142(8) (a) ibid is totally misplaced on the facts of the case as the amount of duty paid in the case was not under the existing law but under the Customs law, for which the above said provisions of CGST can not be applied. Section 142(8) (a) ibid would be applicable only in cases of duties/taxes recoverable under the existing law. Therefore, the adjudicating authority has erred in applying the above provision of CGST law for the present case. I agree with the contention of the appellant in this regard, but I hold that this fact, in any way, does not support their cause for refund under reference.

11. The appellant has relied on the Orders-in-Appeal issued by the Commissioner (Appeals) at Vadodara and Indore and refund orders issued by different original authorities viz. Assistant Commissioners on similar matter. I do not agree with the views taken by the above authorities in the matter for the reasons discussed in the foregoing paras. Regarding the Hon'ble CESTAT decision in the case of M/s Toshiba Machine Chennai Pvt. Ltd. Vs. Commissioner of Central Excise, Outer Commissionerate, Chennai, relied upon by the appellant, I find that the issue in the said case before Hon'ble CESTAT was that of refund of an amount paid by debit under cenvat account and that too of the period prior to GST era and the refund under dispute in the said matter was already stand granted and the dispute was only on the point of whether the said refund of the amount which originally paid by debit in cenvat account was to be granted in cash or by re-credit to cenvat account and the Hon'ble CESTAT has held that once the GST regime is in force, the pending refund claim, if sanctioned, will necessarily have to be paid in cash irrespective of the fact whether the refund amount pertains to that emanating from cenvat account or from account current. As can be seen, the refund issue in the said case was of an amount already paid under the existing law. In the present case, the amount for which the refund is claimed by the appellant is neither paid under existing law nor it is a credit availed under the existing law. Hence, the case is distinguished.

12. I find that recently, the Hon'ble CESTAT, Chennai has decided an identical issue in the case of M/s Servo Packaging Ltd [2020-VIL-72-CESTAT-CH-CE], denying refund of CVD and SAD paid on unfulfilled export obligation against Advance Authorization. The Relevant para of the said decision is as under:

"10. Thus, the availability of CENVAT paid on inputs despite failure to meet with the export obligation may not hold good here since, firstly, it was a conditional import and secondly, such import was to be exclusively used as per FTP. Moreover, such imported inputs cannot be used anywhere else but for export and hence, claiming input credit upon failure would defeat the very purpose/mandate of the Advance Licence. Hence, claim as to the benefit of CENVAT just as a normal import which is suffering duty is also unavailable for the very same reasons, also since the rules/procedures/conditions governing normal import VILGST Passion to Deliver VATinfoline Multimedia www.vilgst.com Page - 5 - of 5 compared to the one under Advance Authorization may vary because of the nature of import.

11. The import which would have normally suffered duty having escaped due to one which ultimately stood unsatisfied, naturally loses the privileges and the only way is to tax the import. The governing Notification No. 18/2015 (supra), paragraph 2.35 of the FTP which requires execution of bond, etc., in case of non-fulfilment of export obligation and paragraph 4.50 of the HBP read together would mean that the legislature has visualized the case of nonfulfilment of export obligation, which drives an assessee to paragraph 4.50 of the HBP whereby the payment of duty has been prescribed in case of bona fide default in export obligation, which also takes care of voluntary payment of duty with interest as well. Admittedly, the inputs imported have gone into the manufacture of goods meant for export, but the export did not take place. At best, the appellant could have availed the CENVAT Credit, but that would not ipso facto give them any right to claim refund of such credit in cash with the onset of G.S.T. because CENVAT is an option available to an assessee to be exercised and the same cannot be enforced by the CESTAT at this stage."

8. It is observed that there is no change in legal provision or any fresh interpretation by way of judicial pronouncement on the issue. Hence, following the stand taken in my earlier OIA, it is very clear that the appellant is not entitled for the refund claim and I find that the adjudicating authority has correctly rejected the refund claims and accordingly, I do not find any reason to interfere with the impugned orders passed by the adjudicating authority. Therefore, I reject the appeals filed by the appellant and uphold the impugned orders.

9. अपीलकर्ता द्वारा दर्ज की गई अपीलो का निपटारा उपरोक्त तरीके से किया जाता है।
The appeals filed by the appellant stand disposed off in above terms.
