ORDER-IN-APPEAL

This appeal has been filed by M/s Bright Impression Pvt Ltd, 409-410, Advait, Near Sandesh Press, Vastrapur, Ahmedabad [hereinafter referred to as the "appellant"] against Order-in-Original No.CGST-VI/VI/Ref-92/SKC/Bright/18-19 dated 28.09.2018 [hereinafter referred to as "the impugned order"] passed by the Assistant Commissioner of CGST, Division-VI, Ahmedabad South.

2. Briefly stated, the fact of the case is that the appellant has filed a refund claim of Rs.39,060/- on 20.06.2018 towards the excess payment of service tax made by them on advances received from the customers. Vide the impugned order, the adjudicating authority has rejected the refund claim on the grounds that the appellant has not shown the core facts that how and for what reason the refund sought and also failed to provide the documents which prove the eligibility of refund claim.

3. Being aggrieved, the appellant has filed in the instant appeal on the grounds that the refund claim in question arises due to excess payment of service tax; that they had paid service tax on advance receipt in service tax regim; that from 1st July 2017 since GST act was introduced, they issued professional bill as per GST regim and paid GST on full amount for the same professional services for which advances were received and service tax paid. Therefore, the amount paid on advance receipt is available as credit as service tax paid. Accordingly, they claimed in TRAS-1 form but reversed as per audit observation with interest and penalty. Therefore, they are eligible for refund of excess service tax paid on advance receipt for which Cenvat credit was reversed.

4. Personal hearing in the matter was held on 26.03.2019. Shri Hiren R Patel, C.A appeared for the same and reiterated the grounds of appeal.

5. I have carefully gone through the facts of the case and submissions made by the appellant in the appeal memorandum as well as at the time of personal hearing. The limited issued to be decided in the instant case is regarding eligibility of refund claim of Rs.39,060/- paid by them twice.

6. Before going into the merits of the case, I find that the appellant has filed the instant appeal on 02.01.2019 against the impugned order dated 28.09.2018 (received by them on 18.10.2018). i.e with a delay of 16 days from the prescribed period of two months as stipulated under Section 85 of finance Act, 1944. The appellant has filed a condonation of delay application with request to condone the delay 16 days with a reason that on introduction of GST Act, 2017 (which provide three months to file an appeal before appellate authority) they were in confusion in appeal period. I consider their request and in view of power entrusted under Section 85 of FA, I condone the delay.

7. As regards eligibility of refund claim on merit, I find that the background for filing the refund claim in question is as mentioned in the grounds of appeal at para 3 above; that they had paid service tax on the amount of advance receipt before June 2017 and transferred the Cenvat credit in Trans-1 form. After the introduction of GST from 1st July 2017, they issued professional bill charging GST and paid the same in Government account. Since they charged twice on the same receipt and reversed the credit as the credit of Trans-1 is reversed as per audit observation, they filed the refund of service tax paid on the amount of advance receipt in June 2017.

8. From the impugned order, I find that the appellant has failed to file the refund claim in question properly with requisite documents. I find that the adjudicating authority has rejected the said claim in absence of proper documentary evidence to establish the refund claim, reasons of refund arisen. In the circumstances, it is prudent to remand the matter to the adjudicating authority to decide the issue afresh after taking into consideration the facts leads to file the refund claim and documentary evidence thereof. The appellant is all liberty to file their claim with documentary evidence to establish the refund, reason for refund etc as raised by the adjudicating authority in the impugned order.

9. In view of above discussion, I remand the case to the adjudicating authority. The appeal stand disposed of in above terms.
